Natural Resources Law Network Submission and Publication Agreement

When the authors (the Authors) of an article, paper, or similar work (collectively, the Submission), or their respective firms or companies (together with the Authors, the Submitting Parties) submit a Submission for publication by The Foundation for Natural Resources and Energy Law (the Foundation) in the Natural Resources Law Network newsletter (the Newsletter), the Submitting Parties are agreeing to this agreement, so please read over this agreement.

The Submitting parties grant the Foundation the nonexclusive right and permission to edit, reproduce, publish, and circulate the Submission in the Newsletter and in any other Foundation publication or media for educational purposes or to otherwise further the purposes or mission of the Foundation, including for publicity or posting on social media sites.

By submitting a Submission for the Newsletter, the Submitting Parties represent, warrant, and agree that (1) the Submission is an original work of the Authors and the Submitting Parties own the exclusive copyright in the Submission, (2) the publication by the Foundation of the Submission will not violate or infringe any copyright, trademark, right of privacy or publicity, or other proprietary right of any person or entity, (3) to the extent the Submission contains any materials that require written permission to be published by the Foundation, all such permissions have been obtained, (4) all of the Submitting Parties have agreed to submit the Submission for publication in the Newsletter upon the terms and conditions in this agreement, (5) the Foundation may make minor editorial changes and corrections to the Submission without the consent of the Submitting Parties, (6) none of the Submitting Parties shall be entitled to any remuneration from the Foundation for publication of the Submission, (7) the Submission has not been submitted to any third party for publication, and will not be submitted to any third party for publication until after the Newsletter for which the Submission was submitted has been published, and (8) if the Submission is selected for publication in the Newsletter and published, the Submission will not be published in any other third party publication within three months of the date the Submission is published in the Newsletter without the written consent of the Foundation; provided, that nothing in this agreement shall prevent the Submitting Parties from publishing the Submission at any time in their firm or company materials, on their firm or company website, in firm or company email blasts, or on any other media sponsored or published by any such firm or company.
